Shorewood-Troy Public Library District Privacy Policy

Patron Privacy

The Shorewood-Troy Public Library District (the “District”) is committed to protecting patron privacy by using its best efforts to keep patron personally identifiable information confidential. The District’s commitment to patron privacy has deep roots in the law and in the ethics and practices of librarianship. The District holds true to the values of the American Library Association affirming that, “Privacy is essential to the exercise of free speech, free thought, and free association.” As such, we “protect each library user's right to privacy and confidentiality with respect to information sought or received and resources consulted, borrowed, acquired, or transmitted.” Patron privacy is governed by this Privacy Policy established by the District’s Board of Trustees and any applicable rules or regulations adopted by the District. The Director has discretion in determining what use is “in the best interest of the Library” and is authorized to act accordingly. The Board of Trustees may modify, amend or supplement this Privacy Policy, as it deems necessary and appropriate.

The Library Records Confidentiality Act protects registration and circulation records from disclosure. Although the District does everything it can in order to protect patron privacy, there are times when the District may be required by law to provide this information. Registration and circulation records may be subject to disclosure by court order or to law enforcement officials under provisions of the Library Records Confidentiality Act, the USA PATRIOT Act, or other applicable law. The District and its staff may be prohibited from reporting to you that your records have been requested or obtained by a government agency under provisions of the USA PATRIOT Act.

- Parents or guardians of minor children;
- Anyone with written consent of the cardholder;
- Under court order or subpoena; or

Website and Public Computer

Cookies

A cookie is a small file sent to the browser by a website each time that site is visited. Cookies are stored on a computer and can transmit personal information. Cookies are used to remember information about preferences on the pages that are visited.

A patron can refuse to accept cookies, disable cookies, and remove cookies from their device. However, this may result in a lack of access to some library services. The library's servers use cookies to verify that a person is an authorized user. This allows a patron access to licensed third-party vendors and to customize webpages to a patron's preferences. Cookies obey the privacy settings that a patron has chosen in their browser. The District will not share cookie information with external third parties.

Data & Network Security

The District uses software programs that monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information or otherwise cause damage. No other attempts are made to identify individual patrons or their usage habits.

Public Computers & Connected Devices

The District does not keep a record of patron activities on any public computer or laptop. Any record of browsing history and activities are removed when a patron logs out. The next patron cannot see any of the previous patron's information.

All personally identifiable information is purged immediately upon the end of a public computer reservation. An anonymous log is created that includes only the computer terminal number, reservation time, and duration of the session. These anonymous reservation statistics remain in the system for two months.

Email & RSS Feeds

A patron may choose to subscribe to a variety of mailing lists and/or RSS feeds from the District. The mailing lists and RSS feeds are serviced by MailChimp. See below for information about how the District works with this and other third-party vendors.

Using third-party vendors

The District enters into agreements with third-parties to provide online services, digital collections, streaming media content, and more. When using some of these services, a patron may also connect with social networks and other users.

Third-party vendors may collect and share a patron's information, including:

- Personally identifiable information a patron knowingly provides. This includes: when a patron registers for the site, provides feedback and suggestions, requests information, or creates shared content.
- Other information that could be used to identify a patron. This includes: a patron's Internet Address (IP Address), search history, location-based data, and device information.
- Non-personally identifiable information. This includes: a patron's ad views, analytics, browser information (type and language), cookie data, date/time of a request, demographic data, hardware/software type, interaction data, serving domains, page views, and the web page a patron visited immediately prior to visiting the site.
- Other data as described in the vendor's privacy policy and terms of use.

For more information on these services and the types of data that is collected and shared, refer to the Terms of Use and Privacy Policies webpage. A patron may choose not to use these third-party vendors if a patron does not accept their terms of use and privacy policies.

The District makes reasonable efforts to ensure that the District's contracts, licenses, and offsite computer service arrangements reflect its policies and legal obligations concerning patron privacy and confidentiality. The District's contracts address restrictions on the use, aggregation, sharing, and sale of information, particularly about minors.
